

What should I do if I think my child has Special Educational Needs?

Your main point of contact at school should always be your child's class teacher. We operate an open door policy and we welcome all parents and carers into school to discuss any concerns you might have. If you need to speak with other staff members, such as the Academy Learning Mentor or the Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator (SENCO), then your child's class teacher will be able to help with arranging this. The SENCO at Thomas Johnson Lower School is Miss Zoe Bloodworth. Miss Bloodworth is happy to listen to concerns you might have about the progress or difficulties your child might be having at school. Please contact the school office if you wish to make an appointment and speak to Miss Bloodworth.
