

Personal, Social, Health and Citizenship; Relationships, Sex & Health Education programme of study: KS 1 and 2

What do we aim to achieve? (Our intent)

Through this scheme of work we aim to equip our pupils with essential skills for life; developing the knowledge, skills and attributes they need to protect and enhance their own wellbeing. Through their learning they will understand how to stay safe and healthy, build and maintain successful relationships and become active citizens, responsibly participating in society around them.

The foundations of these lessons lies in seeing each and everybody's value in society. By covering a wide range of the social and emotional aspects of learning we aim to enable children to develop their identity and self-esteem as active, confident members of their community.

The themes and topics included support social, moral, spiritual and cultural development and provide pupils with protective teaching on essential safeguarding issues, developing their knowledge of when and how they can ask for help.

The positive impact of this work on the whole child includes their academic development and progress, by mitigating any social and emotional barriers to learning and building confidence and self-esteem. Evidence suggests that successful teaching in this area also helps disadvantaged and vulnerable children achieve to a greater extent by raising aspirations and empowering them with skills to overcome barriers they face.

How do we do it? (Our implementation)

We follow the Twinkl scheme of work throughout Years 1-4. This is alongside the school's own Values-based Education and Emotional Wellbeing programmes.

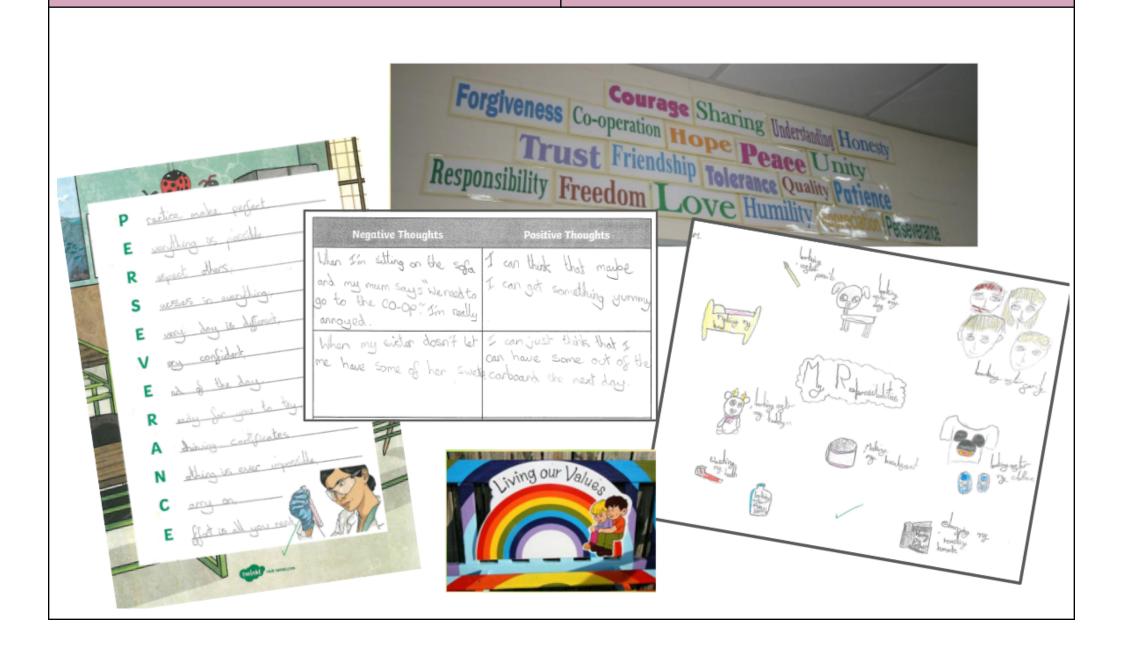

The work is taught in thematic units, in a spiral curriculum which revisits every theme every two years, enabling pupils to recall and build on previous learning.

The units are delivered in a creative manner, using many approaches such as role play, discussion and games with groups of various sizes. All lessons start with a discussion of the pupils' existing knowledge and experience.

This scheme of work was agreed with parents and carers through information evenings and sharing of work examples. The units reflect the outcome of Public Health England documents, and the school's own 2019 SHUE report.

What is the impact of this learning?

Our pupils develop the vocabulary and confidence needed to clearly articulate their thoughts and feelings in a climate of openness, trust and respect, and know when and how they can seek the support of others. They apply their understanding of society to their everyday interactions, from the classroom to the wider community of which they are a part. The teaching supports the active development of a school culture that prioritises physical and mental health and wellbeing, providing pupils with skills to evaluate and understand their own wellbeing needs, practise self-care and contribute positively to the well being of those around them.
